Glendale Union High School

Glendale Union High School represents a vast area as school districts go. Not only does it serve the City of Glendale itself but two other communities also — Washington and Sunnyslope.

The word "serve" is the key to Glendale High, for, built by taxpayers, its purpose is to serve the people who have kept GUHS in existence since 1911.

The school is more than the 30 acres on which its numerous buildings and playing fields lie sprawling. It is more than the buildings themselves. It is a way of life, educationally speaking, and it is warm and open and human.

The buildings themselves are a jumble of old-fashioned and modern architecture, some pleasing to the eye, others aesthetic atrocities.

The teachers and administration are informal and intensely interested in helping the students who attend the school.

By the beginning of 1952, Glendale High will have spread its physical plant to Sunnyslope in the outer edges of the district; for as the school grows in maturity, it has grown in size.

A good place to go to school, this Glendale High.

Dedication—

The 1952 Cardinal is proudly and respectfully dedicated to Mr. Robert C. Scott. Those who know him can only approve of our choice of "Scotty" as being the right one. We hold him, our new vice-principal and long-time friend, in high esteem for his unselfish devotion to Glendale High and its student body. Registration, counseling, pep rallies, school spirit assemblies, classes, driver training—these are but a few of the activities of this untiring and patient man who has put first above all things the school and the people within it.

September— and a Host of Activities . . .

Right—Football practice started with September. Here Coaches Schmidt and Dougherty show Don Holley proper blocking form. And Don became an All-State player

Left—Good citizen Max Green always willing to lend a hand, dons a sandwich sign to plug student activity tickets for the student council

Right—And came September, came initiations. Pledges had to serve their elders and wear preposterous clothes. Here four prospective Red Masque members salaam to club members

Story conference led by editor Nancy Conroy was held every issue to gather and assign news stories. Starting with Nancy, right, and going clockwise are Bob Glover, Lynn Takesue, Jeanne Marks, Bernie Hill, Bill Roberts, Jack Hook, Pat Paddock, Eva Marie Steward and Ernestine Neal. The staff did a masterful job of editing the paper on their own.

The business staff led by business manager Pat Paddock, center, was an important part of getting Hi-Lites out. They were responsible for seeing that there was sufficient money on hand to publish. Here assistants Bob Barker and Zoe Gocke are mailing papers to advertisers.

In September, the Student Council, the school administration, and Hi-Lites urged that GUHS students take enough pride in their school to keep the campus clean. The Story of the Season

Glendale High's 1951 varsity football season was not a successful one according to the record books, but head coach Clyde Dougherty and line coach Czeslow Schmidt believe that the inexperienced squad gained much from the near winless season

Playing nine games, the GUHS iron men racked up a one-win, eight-loss tabulation—but that one win, over one of the stronger teams in the state North Hi, was tabbed the biggest upset in the state throughout the season Prescott tromped the Cards 31-12 on the GUHS gridiron in the opening game Friday, September 28. The next week Amphitheater of Tucson outpointed the Glendale lads 25-12 Phoenix Tech did likewise by a 14-7 count at Glendale Memorial Stadium the week after

One fine Friday evening, October 19 a powerful North Phoenix Mustang squad galloped to Glendale but trotted homeward, tail dragging, after being trampled 20-13 by a herd of stampeding Red Birds!

North was heavily favored but a hard driving team quenched a thirst for a win by out-fighting the larger club

The Cards dropped the remaining five games to various teams in the state The St. Mary's Knights whipped GUHS by a one-sided 38-7 score at Phoenix and the West Phoenix Thunderbirds flew by the Red Birds by a narrow 20-19

A scrappy Tucson Badger club gnawed its way to a 55-13 victory at Glendale and the Mesa Jackrabbits hopped over Glendale's defense and scampered to a 39-0 tally at Mesa

The final game was played at Yuma where the Cards showed much improvement. The Criminals, however, escaped Glendale's scoring punch and nailed down a 19-6 win

THE FIRST DAY OF THE NEW YEAR—

Another Salad Bowl Parade and Another Prize for Glendale

The Salad Bowl Opened up the Month of

JANUARY

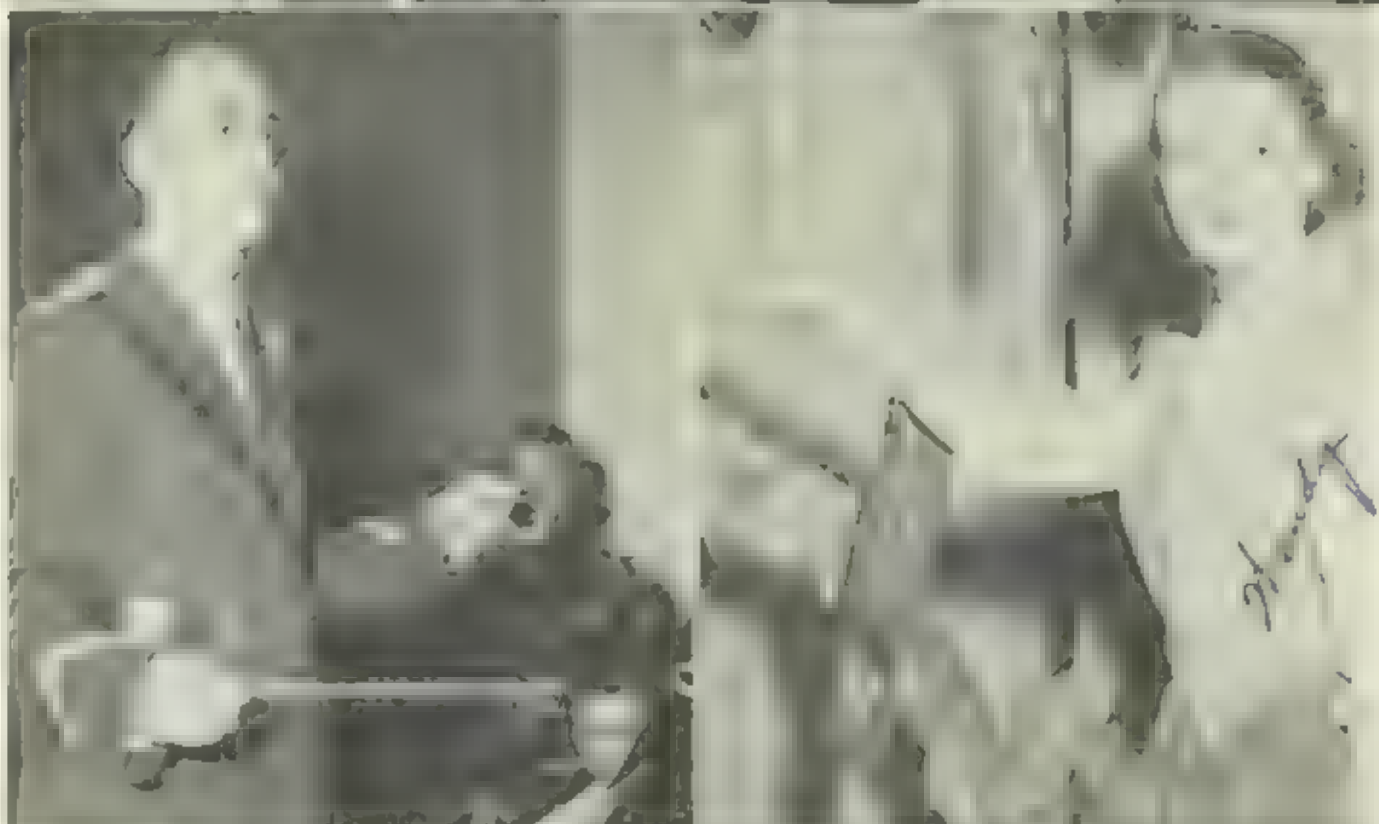

Which, of Course, Featured Basketball

January Brought Plenty of Action

Mr. Schmidt, faculty sponsor of the prize-winning Salad Bowl float, presents the Kiwanis award to chairman Elmer Duncan who was in charge of building. Looking on are Mr. Campbell, Eldred Terry, Lorena Heinzig, Dirl Dennis, Doris Evans, and Evelyn Heinzig, all of whom worked on the float during Christmas vacation.

Left, Mr. Albert O. Davis, distinguished composer, conducted the Cardinal Concert Band in the best winter concert heard yet. The concert included three of Mr. Davis' own numbers and drew a record crowd.

Right, Wendy Davis, no relation to Al, also took to the stage in January for the annual Home Ec department's style show. The show was followed by a tea in the cafeteria.

Mr. Zinser's civics classes conducted mock trials to show the workings of the court system. Here prosecutor Jack Hook leans into witness Dick Amy while Judge Don Holley and defense attorney Lee Anderson look on.

Mrs. Harriette Imes

THE WASHINGTON STATE ARCHIVES

February . . .

MONTH OF ROMANCE

THIS Was Romance?

Why, sure—Romance, Co-Ed Week style. Donna Taylor carried her own books, and Walter Grassie's too. Then, to add to the topsy-turvy situation, she had to pay for the coke. The Girls' League-sponsored week saw the femmes pay for dates, hold doors open, ask the guys to go out, and carry books for the boys. The fun-laden week ended in the annual Sweetheart Dance and the situation returned to normal.

Studies and Fun Went Together In February

As much as Glendale students enjoyed the wealth of extra-curricular activities in campus, they still realized that class work was all-important. Here, hitting the history books hard, are Bonnie Sand, Marlene Schlagel, Iwana Shrock, Sharon Smith.

The FFA offered an unusually gay and instructive assembly. After the boys had told of their projects, the girls had a nailing race for boxes of lollipops. Amateur carpenters are Edna Thompson, Bonnie Gilum, Annette Valenzuela, Mary Priddy, Barbara Anderson.

This WAS Romance!

Why, sure—Romance, senior play style Mrs. Phyllis Hoops chose "Mother Is a Freshman" for the upper class comedy, and for the second time this year the auditorium was packed to overflowing. Here Jo Cuddihy and Max Hyatt give each other that long, gooey look, before they fall into a clinch. Below, the mirror reflects Carroll McAllister being made up by Carol Cockrill, while Eva does her own make-up work.

The Basketball Season Came To An End

The Cords wound up on the long end of an 8-7 season and then went off to Tucson for tournament play. Both Amphibian and Tucson High chose that time to get hot and the Birds went down to two defeats, and so out of the tourney.

Cords making the trip to the tourney were: Gary [unclear], Gerald Sandarg, Terry Gyger, Arnulfo Cuevas, Don Mendick, Charley Hallmark, Bob Warren, Ken Ashinhurst, Don Holley, Ray Hoopes, and mgr. Jim Caughlin.
